BYRON JONES writes, "I retired last January after 30 years in public education in North Carolina, with 19 years as an art instructor and 11 years as an administrator. Loving retirement. Creating and selling art and helping to raise our granddaughter. Check out my website for B. Jones/Visual Imagery on Facebook."

TERRY WALLACE CHAMBLISS is still living in Durham and working at Duke. "My husband, Joe, and I recently found ourselves as empty nesters – how did we get here so fast?" she writes. "Our daughter, Carter (22), graduated from UNC last May and is working for Linder Global Events in Washington, D.C. Our son, Tyler (19), is a freshman at George Washington University."

TAL HINNANT MANGUM writes, "Though it seems WALKER '08 is firmly ensconced in Texas and enjoying his job as the director of athletic ticket operations at SMU, I'm happy to report that CALLEY '13 has just began a new job in Raleigh in communications at the N.C. Family Policy Council, led by Ravenscroft alumnus John Rustin. MICHAEL is still traveling all over the U.S. and Canada as a consultant but stays in tip-top shape as a devotee of hot yoga. I am thrilled to travel with Michael when the schedule permits, which lately has been rare, owing to my devoting many hours per week as the volunteer treasurer of a Raleigh nonprofit."

PHIL JONES is working as a registered nurse for Aveanna Pediatrics, which does home care for children with special needs. "It's a very rewarding second career," he says. "And I'm working on the guitar and voice for the retirement career!"

DAN SAPP says he's doing great in his fifth year living with Stage 4 cancer. He is still exercising, surfing and playing music. His wife, Anne, retired after 20-plus years in financial services but would love to jump back in. Walker is a sophomore at Elon University studying sports management, and Mason is a freshman at California Polytechnic State University, studying economics and playing goalie for the lacrosse program. Dan says any Ravens planning on a trip to San Francisco should give him a call!

KELLY CORPENING THORNTON's older daughter, Taylor, recently welcomed a new daughter, Quinlan; big sister Reagan is 7, and Finley is 5. Kelly's younger daughter, Mary Carter, is getting ready to start a master's program.

EDITH WOOTEN BAILEY and husband Ivan bought a second home, in the Oakwood section of Raleigh, and are looking forward to fixing it up. Because they also love their life and friends in D.C., they are keeping their house in Georgetown. After 11 years of running communications at NEA Foundation, Edith was looking to "pre-tire" in January 2019 and take a few months off to see how she likes a life of leisure and then decide what to do next.

LISA PHILLIPS PERKINSON's son, Page, married Michele Russo on Oct. 19, 2018, in Andover, New Jersey.

SKIPPER DAY reports that he and Barbara are doing well. Their son WILSON '11 and his wife, Haley, are enjoying their new home in Wendell. Wilson is with Gregory Poole/Caterpillar in Raleigh and has recently been promoted to a new position. CHAD '08 graduated from the Kenan-Flagler Business School MBA program in May and is working with CapTrust in Raleigh. He married Caroline Cordell in Pinehurst on Oct. 13, 2018.

DAVID COZART, Valerie and the kids are doing great. Banks is at High Point University, Liza is at University of the South (Sewanee), and Ward is a junior at Woodberry Forest. Both boys plan to study in Spain this summer.

I, ALLISON GILBERT HOLMES, went to Asheville this fall with KELLY CORPENING THORNTON, SUE FINLEY COTTON, LISA PHILLIPS PERKINSON, ANITA DANIEL KRAYNIK and CATHY EDWARDS LULL. We had the best time reminiscing about our high school times. There was a lot of laughter and good food and beverages!

for T-Mobile. Over the holidays, we will be in Florida visiting my brother BENJI '95, who is doing well and is a terrific uncle. Via social media, I have been able to reconnect with several former Ravens, including one of my closest high school friends, DEVIN DOWNEY '92. Also connected with KRISTEN PEED, the first smiling face I met in the halls on my first day as a Raven; TRENT WADFORD, who is so proud of his daughter for recently competing in her first-ever swim meet; and CHAD HOSKINS '97, who is doing well and hopes to visit the West Coast soon. Hard to believe 25 years have passed since we walked Senior Hall. Best wishes, Class of '93, and here's to another 25 years.”

LIZ ROGERS BIGGERSTAFF is starting a new role as director of undergraduate admissions at Wingate University. This change comes after 16 years in the Wingate Athletic Department, 12 ½ of which were spent in NCAA compliance. Liz writes, "I am really looking forward to this new challenge and even more excited about playing a vital role in the continued growth of my alma mater."

KATE SKVARLA CUTSHALL has made a big life change and moved from New Canaan, Connecticut, to Tampa, Florida, in August. She writes, "The kids are loving school at Berkeley Prep and enjoy hanging out with ANNE FORSYTH ENGLISH's nieces and nephews (RICHARD FORSYTH '96's children), who are at the same school! We are enjoying the much warmer weather and the sunny life in Florida and hope we get lots of visitors! Loved seeing all the fellow '98s at the reunion in October!"

Alumni Association Honors Winston '78 and Muti, Hosts First Alumni Art Exhibit

THE RAVENSCROFT ALUMNI ASSOCIATION honored two outstanding Ravens at its annual meeting on Friday, Oct. 5, in the Keim Center for Innovation and Research.

CHARLES M. WINSTON JR. '78 was recognized with the Distinguished Alumni Award. A successful restaurateur best known as co-founder of Raleigh's Winston's Grille, Winston served on the Ravenscroft Board of Trustees 2005-2015, and he and his wife, Jenny, were co-chairs of the five-year, $15M Embrace Possibility campaign.

Jill Muti, former director of fine arts and assistant head of school, was inducted into the Ravenscroft Alumni Fine Arts Hall of Fame. Muti, an accomplished flutist and music educator, elevated Ravenscroft's fine arts programs during her tenure here, advocating for the funding and construction of the Fine Arts Center, which opened in 1993. In 1998 she and her husband, Lorenzo Muti, launched the Spoleto Study Abroad program.

Attendees also enjoyed the opening of Ravenscroft's first alumni art exhibit, held in the Pugh Family Lobby of the Fine Arts Center.

"It is always such a treat coming back to campus each year to see classmates, other alumni and teachers and to see all of the changes going on on campus," said ANNA CLAIRE MURNICK PRICE '03, president of the Alumni Council. "The Alumni Association was pleased to recognize the accomplishments of both Charles and Jill and to celebrate the importance of the visual arts in the lives of so many Ravenscroft students and alumni."

You might have noticed we've made a few changes to Ravenscroft Magazine!

AS PART OF OUR cover-to-cover magazine redesign, Alumni Class Notes will appear in print once a year, in the Spring issue, and will include alumni milestones — weddings and babies, degrees and recognitions, promotions, relocations and retirements — from the previous calendar year.

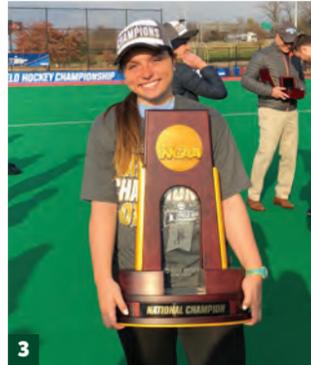

Share your updates with fellow Ravens throughout the year via our alumni social media channels (Facebook, Ravenscroft Connect or any class-specific pages your class agent may manage). And you may still send your milestones and photos for Class Notes anytime, via our Alumni Portal! Find those links, contact information for class agents and more at www.ravenscroft.org/alumni. We look forward to hearing from you!

Honor an Outstanding Raven!

THE RAVENSCROFT ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

is proud to recognize our outstanding alumni in three ways: the Distinguished Alumni Award, the Alumni Sports Hall of Fame Award and the Alumni Fine Arts Hall of Fame Award. Our alumni have an incredible tradition of achievement, service and integrity, and these awards are our way of recognizing this achievement.

In addition, the Class of 1862 Award bestows honorary alumni status to faculty and staff, volunteers and other supporters who have provided an outstanding level of service to the school.

The nomination deadline for these awards is May 1, 2019. Details about each award and the nomination form are at www.ravenscroft.org/alumni/alumni-awards.

2019 Legacy Lunch: Celebrating Three Generations of Ravens

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION'S annual Legacy Lunch, held on Wednesday, Feb. 6, brought together dozens of families for lunch and a celebration of the ties that bind these three generations of Ravens together.

All told, Ravenscroft boasts 78 alumni (76 parents and two grandparents) with 115 children currently enrolled as students, including seven of the nine alumni on our Board of Trustees. That's quite a vote of confidence!

- 1. Several generations of Ravens together for the traditional group photo at the Legacy Lunch
- 2. JOE DIAB '83, JOHN PARHAM '84 and KENNETH HAYWOOD '85
- 3. MARY BURR FONVILLE EDWARDS '85, ANNA YARUR NORRIS '92 and HILARY WALDENBERG LAMB '88
- 4. Current students JACK MORRISON '27 and COLE VENTERS '27
- 5. ALUMNI BRYAN KANE '00 and JOHN RITCHER '01 with John's children, JAMES '29 and SOPHIA '31, and Sophia's friend SUSANNA GILLESPIE '31

Ravens Reflect on #croftGRADitude

AS PART OF OUR #croftGRADitude focus on alumni giving in November 2018, we asked alumni and members of the Class of 2019 the following questions:

What are you thankful for at Ravenscroft and beyond? What stories and advice do you have to give? How has Ravenscroft helped you achieve your goals?

Here's what some of our Ravens had to say!

Inspiration

When a fellow student's father taught a photography course during a mini-semester my senior year, it started me on a path that eventually led to both a passion and a career. My camera has allowed me to travel around the world, meeting everyone from Desmond Tutu to rural farmers in remote areas of Bangladesh. Thanks, Ravenscroft! — BILLY HOWARD '73

Class of '12

Can't believe it's been six years since I graduated! Ravenscroft prepared me for college and beyond in ways I never even realized. Mr. League, Ms. Immediata and Señor Kates are just a few of the amazing teachers who challenged me to not just be an apt student but to be exceptional in all of my academic pursuits. — ANONYMOUS

Appreciation

Joan Battle was an engaging and inspiring English literature teacher during our time at the school. She lived a remarkable life and did many extraordinary things. Her passion for teaching brought literature to life and helped instill future interest in language and writing. Who could forget her introduction to "Beowulf" by reciting its opening lines in the original Old English!? — CHARLIE RAWLS '75

I have Ravenscroft to thank for my leadership!

If I hadn't attended Ravenscroft, I would never be as involved in my career and community as I am today. The smaller class sizes and celebration of stepping up and standing out set me and all of my fellow students and peers up for success in the "real world." As a class and as a school, we are engaged, involved and passionate about serving others, all thanks to our teachers' support and example. — ANONYMOUS

Thank you! Class of '04

Ravenscroft was a huge part of my growth and development as a leader and student. I am so grateful for all of the opportunities it exposed me to, the ways I was challenged and the community that I will be a part of forever. Thank you! — ANONYMOUS

Appreciation for '14

How lucky we are to have attended a school that embraces fine arts, athletics and scholarship, and teaches all so well! Thank you, Ravenscroft, for allowing me to pursue many passions. — ANONYMOUS

Every Raven, Every Day

FUND FOR RAVENSCROFT

There are many steps, both big and small, in the Ravenscroft journey ...

... making a first best friend on the playground

... learning to write letters and numbers

... giving back through service and leadership

... shining on stage as part of a fine arts production

... exploring the world through literature, history and science

... discovering how to be a good teammate and fierce competitor

... getting that long-awaited college acceptance letter

... and every step helps make our Ravens who they are.

The journey of today's Ravens is possible because of donors like you who believe in Ravenscroft's mission and the opportunities your gift makes possible for Every Raven, Every Day. THANK YOU!
